

Joana Chicau [PT/NL] is a graphic designer, coder, researcher — with a background in dance. Her trans-disciplinary project interweaves media design and web environments with performance and choreographic practices.

In her practice she researches the intersection of the body with the constructed, designed, programmed environment, aiming at widening the ways in which digital sciences is presented and made accessible to the public. She has been actively participating and organizing events with performances involving multi-location collaborative coding, algorithmic improvisation, open discussions on gender equality and activism.

Dance & Performance Background

1997-2010: completed the advanced II degree of Cecchetti Classical Ballet, in the year of 2009, at the academic Pirmin Treku, in Porto. During this time at this school, I had performed regularly for big audiences, in venues such as The Casa da Música, Coliseu Theatre and Rivoli Theatre, in Porto. Having worked with invited dancers and choreographers from Gulbenkian and the Companhia Nacional de Bailado, including a long term collaboration with the choreographer Benvindo Fonseca.

Currently: attending dance classes at Dansateliers [dansateliers.nl/] in Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Regularly attending various workshops to name: a cooperation with SKVR and Dansateliers, together with ICKAmsterdam/ Nicole Beutler (2015); the workshop Up Pen Down – Huppe Plume Tonne (2015), in Brussels — collaboration between Open Source Publishing (OSP) and choreographer Adva Zaka, linking typography and performance; intensive dance workshops at Companhia Instável (2014), in Portugal; recently joined a Eshkol-Wachman notational system and movement workshop at Vleeshal (2016) in Middelburg; and a series of classes at Movement Research in New York. Also regularly visiting the If I Can't Dance archive and events, in Amsterdam, and Apass in Brussels for researching on various performance related topics.
